better work, better life

Opening of doors to meeting room: 10.45 a.m.

Beginning of meeting: 11.30 a.m.

Dear Shareholder,

With over 37,000 employees and more than 700,000 associates serving our clients across the globe every day, the Adecco Group delivered a strong performance in the reporting period. Net income increased by 20%. Organic growth saw revenues rise by 4% to EUR 21.1 billion, while operating income grew by 28%. This result represents an important step towards meeting the target set for 2009, with an EBITA margin of more than 5%. In view of this excellent set of results the Board of Directors proposes a dividend of CHF 1.50 per share, an increase of 25%.

We are delighted with the progress Adecco has made in 2007. The set-up of our Professional business lines and our focus on value generation have proven successful. We enhanced gross margins through good pricing discipline and higher growth rates in our Professional business lines, while carefully managing cost efficiency and our invested capital.

In France, USA and Canada, our efforts on cost efficiency, combined with disciplined pricing, produced a strong performance and significantly improved profitability. Adecco France, our largest market, is back on track after years of declining profitability. Their decisive action serves as an inspiration to other countries. We are well prepared to further develop our leading market position.

With the acquisition of the German Tuja Group, we continued to strengthen our position in Germany, one of the most promising markets in our industry, with significant structural growth potential. The current penetration of temporary staffing in Germany is only 1.3%, compared with 2.4% in France and 4.5% in the UK.

At the same time, we further strengthened our position in emerging markets such as Eastern Europe, India, Latin America and Asia. Bearing in mind the underlying demographic shift in the developed countries, our focus on these markets is more than just a short-term commitment, it is an integral part of our long-term strategy. By 2020, the majority of the population in Europe will be over 40 years of age. Japan's working-age population peaked already in 1995 and is now falling. Demographers forecast that by 2025 the number of working-age Japanese will drop by 15%, while the majority of India's population will be younger than 30 in 2015. Increasing penetration of temporary staffing, continuing liberalisation of the labour markets, and the fact that our labour force will become more mobile in the future, are creating good opportunities for our industry in these emerging economies.

Using the momentum of a successful 2007, we will continue to focus on profitable growth for 2008 and beyond. Our industry is witnessing a growing demand for both flexibility and skills across the globe – a trend most likely to accelerate in the foreseeable future. In relation to our operating business, this results in our two distinct approaches to the market. For positions that require general skills, we offer specialised solutions, focusing on industry know-how and cost leadership. This also means ensuring continuity and nurturing long-term relationships with our associates and candidates. Attracting professional skills requires “experts” in our network. Their in-depth professional knowledge amongst our employees enables us to find and provide challenging consecutive assignments which offer attractive perspectives for career development. In both approaches to the market, it is our goal to focus on operational excellence, higher specialisation and efficient delivery models.

As the global leader in human resources services, we are aware that traditional patterns of employment will continue to evolve in the years to come. We therefore want to encourage the present and future generations to see change as opportunity in myriad forms. We want to invite people to welcome tomorrow’s challenges with confidence and to join us in shaping the future of the workplace.

We thank our shareholders and clients for their continued trust. We are particularly grateful to all our employees for their contribution to the successful development of our Company. Together we will pursue our dual-market approach with passion, determination and a clear purpose: to provide high-value services to our clients, offer attractive professional perspectives to all employees and, as a consequence, generate high value for our shareholders.
